I returned your call on Friday when I finished a long meeting, but failed to reach you. Your father advised me of your latest decision to redeem at year-end. While the original decision to do so was entirely yours, at your subsequent express request to reverse that decision, we undertook staff changes and new hirings which you requested to handle your account. We also extended some maturities in the portfolio to take advantage of the flat yield curve environment. This is now not so easy to reverse again, and certainly not costless.

Gary and I will be in the London office all day Monday and Tuesday and would appreciate a call from you and Debra to see how we can sort this situation out.

Regards,
